DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-28, 53-70, and 84-90 are pending in this application, which is a CON of Serial Number 08/881,398, now abandoned, which is a CON of Serial Number 08/340510 filed November 16, 1994, now abandoned.

The preliminary amendment dated 1/3/01 canceling claims 29-52 and 71-83 has been entered.

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Art Unit: 1762

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

It is noted that the claimed invention is directed to a method. The examiner suggests amending the abstract to reflect same.

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

It is noted that the claimed invention is directed solely to a method. The examiner suggests amending the title to reflect same.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-28, 53-70, and 84-90 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) based upon a public use or sale of the invention. The Declaration of William Walthall filed February 23, 1998 discloses that BF Goodrich Inc. was negotiating with Boeing to use the 35 heat sinks made by the present invention for filling orders (i.e. for sale) from the airlines for replacement parts on September 27, 1993 and November 16, 1993 (see paragraph 8 and Tab A) which are more than one year before the effective date of the US Application (filing date November 16, 1994). The negotiation activity of the BF Goodrich Inc. constitutes an "on sale" bar under 35 U.S.C. 102(b).

It is noted that a rejected or unreceived offer for sale is enough to bar a patent. The examiner's position is supported by case law decisions: 221 USPQ 561 (CAFC 1984), 33 USPQ 2d 1512 (CAFC 1995), and 226 USPQ 1 (CAFC 1985).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-28, 53-70, 84-90 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bentson et al. (5,298,311). Bentson discloses a method of forming carbon/carbon composites by depositing a plurality of layers by CVI/CVD (col.2 lines 53-67). The reference clearly teaches that densification can be accomplished by CVD or CVI (col.1 lines 31-34). A first matrix (col.3 lines 16-26) and a second matrix is taught (col.4 lines 31-59). However, the reference remains silent on the bulk density gain.

It is noted that the reference clearly teaches densification by CVD/CVI. The degree to which the densification achieves is not taught. One skilled in the art would realize that this can be varied depending on the final desired characteristics and that the greater the densification, the increased cost would occur. Hence, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to obtain a specific densification with the expectation of balancing process characteristics and process costs.

The limitation of dependent claims 2-28, 53-70, 84-90 have been addressed above.

Hecht (5,705,008) and Rocher et al. (5,476,685) have been provided for additional information.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-28, 53-70, 84-90 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-26 of U.S. Patent No. 6,109,209. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because sensing a gas temperature is an obvious variation.
